Lieutenant James Hartman graduates from the FBI National Academy

Sheriff Charlie Ray Fox, Jr. is pleased to announce Lt. James Hartman has graduated from the FBI National Academy at Quantico, Virginia on Friday, June 13, 2014. This was the 255th Session of the National Academy Program consisting of men and women from 46 states. Included in the class were members of law enforcement agencies from the District of Columbia, 17 international countries, six military organizations and five federal civilian organizations.

Internationally known for its academic excellence, the National Academy Program offers 10 weeks of advanced investigative, management and fitness training for selected officers having proven records as professionals within their agencies.

FBI Director James Comey was the principal speaker at the ceremony.

Training for the program is provided by the FBI Academy instructional staff, Special Agents and other staff members holding advanced degrees, many of whom are recognized internationally in their fields of expertise.

Since 1972, National Academy students have been able to earn undergraduate and graduate credits from the University of Virginia due to the accreditation by the university of the many courses offered.

Lt. Hartman is a 26-year law enforcement veteran having begun his career with the Warrenton Police Department serving as a patrol officer, detective and narcotics investigator. Lt. Hartman came to the Fauquier County Sheriff's Office in 2004 as a detective. He was subsequently promoted to sergeant and lieutenant in the criminal investigations division. During his tenure he was a member of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team (SERT) and currently serves as the Assistant Division Commander for investigations and Public Information Officer.

Lt. Hartman is the fourth member of the Fauquier County Sheriff's Office to attend the National Academy and joins former Chief Deputies Donald Cox, Warren Jenkins and former Sheriff Ashby W. Olinger as alumni.
